DETAILED ACTION

1. The restriction requirement of June 23, 2005 is hereby withdrawn.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 14 and 16-20 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,810,964 in view of Mitchell et al. Patent '964 discloses a fire extinguisher comprising a discharge assembly, a dip tube, an extinguisher bottle, and a gas generator in the bottle. Mitchell et al. teaches a method for remanufacturing a discharged fire extinguisher in which the extinguisher is cleaned and various parts of the extinguisher are removed and replaced. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used the teaching of Mitchell et al. to remanufacture the extinguisher of '964 after it has been spent in order to reuse as many of the components as possible. The additives as recited in claim 20 are a matter of user preference.

4. Claims 22-34 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 14 of U.S. Patent No. 6,810,964. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-13 of '964 discloses all of the structural limitations of the instant invention thus making the method of manufacturing inherent to the device of '964.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 15 and 21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
